1. The New Dragoness

Strange new World

Me: Hi everyone I know, I know what you're thinking.

Cynder: That you haven't updated your other Story in over a month.

Me: thank you Cynder for summing that up.

Hiccup: Why is that CD1?

Me: Because my sister will not get off her lazy ass and give me her copy of Brave! I only have the blue-ray copy!

Cynder: am glad I don't have a sister.

Me: lucky you.

Toothless: CD1 owns nothing but her story plots.

A New Dragoness

Sometimes the gods can throw stuff at you that you're not prepared for. When they do you better be ready for it.

Toothless was taking a nice walk on Thor's beach on a nice rare sunny day on Berk. His rider wasn't with him, He was busy at the smithy working on a new saddle for him and Hiccup. Looking up at a call of a seagull watching it as it circle the sky and thin land fare off on the sand. Thin more showed up and stared to crowd a part of the beach. Tilting his head in confusion he walked toward the gulls.

When the gulls spotted the dragon they flew off in a fury of feathers. What Toothless saw shocked him down to his fake tailfin.

It was a breed of dragon he never saw before it's was deep violet that it looked black, three horns on each side of its head and three on the back of the head, the wing thumbs and tail tip looked like knives, three claws littered each of its paw, the under belly and wings skins were a deep pink, and to add to its strange looks it wear something around the neck, legs, and tail.

He walked up to the dragon slowly and then with a foot of space between them he started to sniff it. It smelled like a female and she smelled like volcanic ash, blood from her wounds and of seagulls. Looking around for any male dragon that might be her mate, but saw none in site.

Toothless took the dragoness gently by her scruff of her neck and slowly jogged back to the smithy so Gobber can fix her up.

~YOU MUST BOW TO THE SEXY LINE~

Hiccup was banging his hammer on a heated piece of metal that was a connecting rod to toothless's saddle. After getting it in shape he dipped it in a bucket of water. Looking at the rod once more before placing it at the side and went to work on the leather of the saddle. Hiccup looked out the window of the smithy.

Everything in the village was running like he like it. Mulch and Bucket coming back with the day's catch, the twins were fighting, Astrid was cleaning Stormfly, his father on Thornado, Gobber cleaning dragons teeth, and Toothless jogging into the square with a dragon in his mouth.

Waitâ€¦What?

Hiccup did a double take and indeed, Toothless had a dragon in his mouth. Jumping out the window ran toward his dragon and say that the dragon was hurt with many open

"Gobber come her quickly!" yelled Hiccup

Gobber look out of the dragon's mouth that he was working on and saw the dragon in Toothless's mouth. He limped out of his shop at a brisk pace over to the rider and dragons. When Gobber got there the wounded dragon was on the ground. He saw that Hiccup was about to touch the dragon.

"Don't touch it yet" said Gobber when he saw Hiccup pull his hand away from the beast he continued "we need to put on a muzzle on it first in case it wakes up. We don't want to lose a hand do we?" he chuckles and thin specks again. "Here well use my built."

"NO! Well use mine." Hiccup yells Gobber looks at him oddly.

"Whys that" Gobber asked

"Three reasons" said Hiccup counting down on his fingers "One: my built is smaller and will fit better, Two: my pants can stay up without a built, and Three: no one wants to see your underpants." Finished Hiccup as he handed Gobber his built. Gobber looks on and thin nodded and tacks the built.

Gobber got down on his good knee and Hiccup hold of the dragons head. As Hiccup did this the dragons eyes snapped open to revile human like green eyes.

First off no flames please only helpful hints. Now on to matter at hands. I'll be working on this till my sister gives me her copy of Brave. So till such time arrives you can enjoy this lovely fanfiction.

Love. Kisses. And R&R

2. Waking Up

Me: hayyyy!

Hiccup: you're happy.

Me: I'm lessoning to Country.

Cynder: who are you lessoning to?

Me: Colt Ford.

Toothless: What's Country?

Me: YOU MOST LISSON AT ONCE!

Hiccup: CD1 owns nothing not even the cover art.

Waking Up

The first thing Cynder was aware of was a voice "â€|See your underpants." What was that? She wanted to lift her head put couldn't she was too weak, and she hate filling weak. Thin Cynder felt the hands of apes touch her head. That made her eyes open instantly and to come face to face with a huge ape with his horn helmet and long fur on upper lip, a fake stone tooth and a missing and in the other a built.

Cynder's mussels were tensing up and as badly she wanted to, she couldn't call on her powers. But that didn't mean she couldn't paw combat the ape. "Hiccup get the grass." The ape said. The hands that were holding her head put it down gently on the ground.

The next thing she saw was a small hand in front of her nose with dragon weed in it and thin all goes fuzzy and thin dark.

~THE GRAET AND POWERFUL SEXY LINE~

When Cynder came to once again she saw that she was in some type of cage that was carved into the rock with wooden bars.

Looking down at herself, Cynder saw that most of her wounds were covered in aloe and gaze. _Why would the apes take care of me_? Cynder thought. She also saw that there was a better muzzle on her maw and her wing tips and tail tip were covered in lather too.

Looking outside the cage she saw a very small ape with green eyes, next to him was a black Dragon with acid green eyes. "Sorry for the muzzle." The small ape said. What it was sorry, an ape was sorry. She had no time to ponder about it as she saw it open the cage door.

The ape only opens the door wide for only him to go under and a bag that smelt of fish. The ape was slowly walking up to her and talking in a soothing voice. "I beat you're hungry, you were out for two hours after I gave you that dragon nip." By the time he was none speaking the ape was in front of her. He first put the fish on the ground, then his hands went up to the muzzle and undid the buckle.

After Hiccup's hands had undid the buckle of the muzzle and when the muzzle was off the dragons' head, the next thing that happened was a sharp pain in his left hand. Now Hiccup being a Viking did what any Viking would do, call for help. "Toothless warning blast." The force of the blast was weak but stung for only to knock the young dragon away from Hiccup and not harm him in the process.

When his hand was out of the dragons' mouth Hiccup ran and slid under the cage door and quickly went to the lever and closed the door all the way. Then the dragons head was between the bars and looked around and when it spotted him. It opens its jaws and spoke?

"And stay away from me you studied ape!"

When it was done Hiccup did the most Viking thing in the world he fainted.

~The Gods love sexy lines~

Gobber was on his way to the Dragon Academy to check on the new Dragon and see how it was healing. When he got to the Academy he heard "And stay away from me you studied ape!" He steps into the arena and saw that Hiccup out cold and the new dragons head between the bars of the cage door.

The dragon turn its head to him open its mouth and spoke.

"You keep your filthy ape hand off me. The same goes for him as well, I already gave him a warning." Gobber looked on with confusion. A dragon could speak like a human. The dragon turned to Toothless and said "What are you looking at?" toothless eyes were slits and he gurred at the dragon and it said "It's not my fault that he fainted he should now that dragons can talk."

Before Toothless could "talk" again he asks the dragon "You can speak and understand him?" The dragon just look at him and give its own look of confusion and said "sheer I can it's just the basic form of dragonese. Can't you understand him?"

"No, but where are my manners I am Gobber the village blacksmith.

That there lad is Hiccup Horrendous haddock the third the chiefs son. What shall I call you?" looking at the dragon it seemed to be thinking on wither or not to give a name or not "Cynder Blackscales, nice to meet you. Now live ape I wish to eat in peace." And with that Cynder turned around and started to eat the fish.

~This line is Sexy and you now it~

When Hiccup woke up he was on a cot in the smithy with his left hand in gaze. Looking around he saw Gobber sharpening one of his many daggers and Toothless in his spot of the smithy.

"Cynder sheer did a number on you, you're lucky you didn't lose that hand of yours." Said Gobber

"Who's Cynder?" asked Hiccup as he walked over to the Blacksmith.

"The new dragoness she can speak you know."

"So that wasn't a dream that dragon can speak. Did it say anything else?" asked Hiccup

"She lad she, and no but she called me an ape. What's an ape?" said Gobber as he ponders on the word ape. "No idea but by the sound of it we got long way to go to gain Cynder's trust." Said Hiccup. He started to think on what to do to gain that trust. His eyes widen of a great plan, but first he needed to find Astrid.

Like always no flames only helpful hint. Now to the news a new update yeah and now for story back ground. I was at war with myself on whether or not could speak to humans but I decided that I would make the story cooler if she could speak to the humans and dragons.

Puppies, kittens and R&R.

3. Chapter 3Outcast Island and Astrid

Me: sorry am late but I have been hold up byâ€|

Hiccup: By what?

Me: High School.

Cynder: it's your last year is it?

Me: You now it!

Outcast Island and Astrid

Spyro was pacing the metal bars of the cage back and forth and staring at the large barded ape and the small old skinny one that was holding a sheep.

"What do you think Alvin? Me and Fungus Found the dragon on the beach getting peaked at by seagulls." Said Mildew.

Alvin looked at the dragon it purple hide gleamed in the torch light along with its gold underbelly. He could see its tense muscles reveal under its hide. But the most stunning thing about the dragon was its human like Amethyst eyes that held anger and worry.

"Aye quite the prize you found Mildew. Now all you have to do is train it." Said Alvin and unforshintly (Not really) His hand was too close to the door and against Spyro's better judgment he lunge for the hand and Spyro got hold of his hand.

Alvin shouted in pain (that's a first) and then he boxed the dragon right on the nose and grasped his muzzle once his hand was out of its mouth. "Will Savage don't just stand there go it a muzzle." Alvin looked back at the dragon and saw the shame in his eyes for trying something so stupid.

"You now Mildew you don't need to train him, I got a better plane for this dragon, he's going to be part of my plane to get those eggs on Berk." Said Alvin and started to laugh evilly.

~the sexy line is evil~

Back on Berk Astrid was going to the dragon academy. She couldn't believe that she was going along with this, well at least she got to bring Stormfly with her. Astrid stepped in to the arena and saw the black dragoness bathing in the little sun light she had.

Cynder's head snapped up when she heard the she-ape come in. Cynder locked eyes with her and then snorted at her. "What do you want ape." She said.

"What can't a girl come to bond with her Dragon?" asked Astrid as she petted Stormfly, Cynder looked at her then to Stormfly and started to hiss at her and Stormfly hissed back.

"Stormfly says that she wants you groomed and polish her scales then practice hand singles." Said Cynder and then started to go into fits of giggles. "Your dragon is very vain did you know that." Ask Cynder still giggling.

"Yes, I know that and for information Stormfly is a Nadder, part of the sharp class and they are all very vain." Said Astrid as she crossed her arms and looked at the dragoness. The Dragoness was blunt to say the least and by the way her muscles were shaped she was a fighter. "I got a Question for you dragon. Do you mind that I sit here?" asked Astrid Cynder just snorted in replied.

Astrid crossed her legs as she sat down looking straight at Cynder's green eyes and said "I mean of no a fines but you seem more human then dragon impossibly your eyes, where are you from?" Cynder looked down her thoughts on her love one

"I come from a land very far a way from here, my home is under attack from trolls and galsms me and my friend we ran away, you see he saved me from the Dark master his name is Malifor and he made me kill so many dragons.

"My friends name is Spyro Draconic, me and him stayed away for three years and we were on our way back when we got separated in a storm and the next thing I now I'm having dragon weed shoved in my face." Even though Cynder was lying it wasn't complete lie either she only hoped it was convening enough to get out of this cage and get the leather off her wings and tail.

"So you killed many dragons and never tried to stop it" asked Astrid, she was going to ask a lot of questions this was not going to be another Heather. "I had no chose but to kill, I was under Malifor's spell and it was a very dark magic. Dark magic is very hard to break it takes a stronger light spell just to free someone of a spell. Lucky for me Spyro is a very strong spell caster." Said Cynder.

"So let me get this straight you were under some spell and some guy comes gets you and you both run away together only to go back three years. Way?" asked Astrid, Cynder nodded yes and said "We were away to stay away from the fighting, we had to fight our way out just to get out of the land and when we got out we got word of the fighting getting out of control and we desisted to go back and help."

Astrid looked at Cynder and saw nothing of suspicion of the dragoness. Looking to the lever that opens the cage door, then to Cynder. Getting up and going to the lever and opening the door and thin when it was open she went to Cynder and said "You can get out but you have to stay with me or hiccup got it. Oh you can't fly for a whale cause you brock your wing in that storm." Cynder nodded and got up and fallowed Astrid out of the academy and to the village.

Author note

It's been months from my last update I blame it on school and writers block I've been righting it off and on so I hope you like it.

4. There is no Flight Club

Strange new world

Ch4 there is no flight club

Me: now were getting to the good stuff

Spyro: how good

Me: like Snotlout's favorite mutton

Hiccup: that good

Cynder: I've seen the way he is around that stuff not pretty.

Me: and on that note Snotlout take it away

Snotlout: CD1 owns nothing.

"Grouned all the dragons are you series" asked hiccup as he talked to his father on the dock. Hiccup had just done talking with Astrid when he was told by a villager that his dad wanted to talk with him. And now here he is with dad about the dragons not fly at all.

"Deathly series there's a band on flying paired." Said Stoick as he walked up a ramp.

"That would be fine for Cynder but what about patrolling, training for the others?" Asked Hiccup as he followed his father.

"What part of band on flying did you not understand Hiccup?"

"What that's ridiculous!"

"I want that wall higher! Are you calling your father ridiculous?" ask the chief as he gave his son a stern glare. "Of course not, I would never call my father ridiculous. I'm calling my chief ridiculous." Said Hiccup just then a pole fell behind them startling Toothless.

"Careful son, you to Dragon. Put your back into it!" Said Stoick as he walked off with Hiccup and Toothless falling not far behind.

"Dad, Alvin has his own dragons, Scauldrons, Changewings, Whispering Death; I've seen them with me own eyes."

"Yes when you were kidnaped and locked up in an Outcast prison." Said Stoick as he kept walking.

"His also read the book of dragons, seen Astrid train a Monstrous Nightmare, and he still has Mildew who by the way I really doubt would hold out under questioning." Said Hiccup as he got in front of his dad.

"Hiccupâ€|"

"If Alvin learns how to train his dragons and attacks with them your only chance is to fight with ours!"

"I understand that, but not going to risk your life or any of the dragon riders, that's my final word." Said the chief as he walked of leaving his son behind.

A nice lovely time skip.

It was late afternoon when Cynder and Astrid got back to the academy after their tour of Berk and Cynder liked the little village, granted some of the smells were worse than ape dung but that was the only down side.

Hiccup got everyone together and told them the bad news. "And you agreed just like that!" yelled Astrid

"What other choice did I have his the Chief who happens to be my incredible over protective father." Said hiccup

"Will we got to get him to change his mind!" Yell Astrid

"Not likely it's hard to change a Chiefs mind trust me." Said Cynder as she sat next to Stormfly.

"And besides its Stoick the Vast, good luck with that" Said Fishlegs.

"What am going to do with Hookfang if he can't fly and do you want to know what he does when his inner worrier is cage upâ€¦" Snotlout never finish because Hookfang light up his tail and hit him over to Astrid who stopped him with her foot. "â€¦That! Is what happens" finished Snotlout still under Astrid's foot.

"Wow we should have cage his inner worrier up sooner that was assume." Said Tuffnut with Ruffnut giggling behind him.

"Look I now this is going to be hard but I'll keep working on my dad and hopefully he'll change his mind." Said Hiccup

"And what if he doesn't" asked Astrid. Hiccup just shrugged.

Cynder walked up to Hiccup and asked "were am I going to sleep for the night?" every one that was a round hiccup toke a step back just like they did with Torch. Hiccup looked at everybody with a deadpanned look.

Just a time skip line

When Hiccup, Astrid and the three dragons walked back to the village Cynder was talking with Stormfly _"I bet that Hiccup wouldn't last a day without flying, that boy loves to fly" _said Stormfly.

"_What do you mean his an ape and apes keep their feet to the ground" _said Cynder

"_Cynder the apes are long dead there are only humans now and humans love to fly" _said Stormfly as she turned off the path and went home.

"_It's sunset Hiccup lets go it's time to fly!" _Said Toothless as he circle around him and ran a little bit away to the cliff.

"_Are you ok Toothless?"_ asked Cynder as she came over

"_Its sunset me and Hiccup always do a lap around the island when it gets dark."_ Said Toothless as Hiccup rubbed his head Cynder just smiled and shocked her head apairitly he didn't care about the band on flying.

"Poor Toothless no family, no night flying what's left for him really?" said Astrid was she still trying to guilt trip Hiccup. Cynder looked at her with a glare.

More time skipping.

It was late at night and Cynder was helping Hiccup with a new project. It was a shield that held a hidden grappling hook and turned in to a cross bow. The cross bow was her idea, and daring that time Hiccup filled her in on what happen between Berk and the Outcast.

Toothless was on his way inside the smithy when he hit Hiccup with his tail "ow!" Hiccup glared at Toothless and Cynder when she snickered "What? He called you ape dung." Hiccup just ignored her.

But Toothless kept bugging him and finally Hiccup had it and said "Toothless you have to relax" as he pointed outside. Toothless went outside and laid down and closed his eyes facing away from Hiccup.

"Nice of you hiccup to be in the shop you to Cynder. Those two are always flying this late enjoying the nice weather. Of course he can't do that now with a band on flying and all." Said Gobber and Hiccup gave him a death glare well he held his new shield. "Shame about thatâ€¦| so what are we making"

"What do you think?" asked Hiccup as should his shield with painted Night Fury on the front. "We worked all night on it." said Cynder.

"All this work for a shield?" asked Gobber

"It's not just a shield." Said both Cynder and Hiccup, But Hiccup being Hiccup he accidently press the grappling hook switch and brought the two together. Gobber looked down at Hiccup and said in a sarcastic tone "handy." Hiccup undid the hook and said "If we can't ride dragons we have to defined our self."

"You now Hiccup you father is just doing what's best for you his trying to keep you safe." Said Gobber

"I know but the problem is the safest place for me is on Toothless." Said Hiccup as he jested to his dragon outside.

"Well I'll leave you two to it. I'll imagine you three will be here for the night to bad really have you seen the moon today, I can't imagine what a beautiful night for a flight." Said Gobber as Hiccup gave him another death glare and Cynder gave him deadpanned look. "I did again didn't I?" asked Gobber as he left the smithy.

Both Cynder and Hiccup turned around only for Toothless to be staring straight at Hiccup scare both of them. "We got to put a bell on him." Said Cynder to Hiccup.

"I know what you're thinking and you might as forget it" said Hiccup

All three looked up at the full moon.

"Your father said no flying Dearing the day he said nothing about flying at night." Said Cynder Hiccup looked at her thin to Toothless who gave him the puppy dog eyes. "And I never got to see the entire island from the air so maybe we can go for 5 min." Hiccup looked at her again and said "You're worse than Gobber and Astrid put together." Said Hiccup

"So that your way of saying lets go?" asked Cynder

"You bet come on." Said Hiccup

Time skip line

It wasn't 2 minutes into the flight and they were trying to lose Astrid and Stormfly. They went the sea stacks and it didn't take long to shack her off their trail. All three landed on a sea stack to rest.

"That was a close on. Nice flying bud." Said Hiccup and Cynder got off of Toothless and said "yeah that was some fast flying your as fast as me"

"I think we lost her." Said hiccup

"Think again hiccup."

"Astrid we were just talking about you." Said hiccup

"So this is the part where I ask if your father change his mind and you say he didn't and you're going behind his backâ€|again" Said Astrid

"There was a last time?" asked Cynder.

"Ooh yes there was." Said Astrid as she glared at Hiccup.

"No this is the part where I tell you that my dad is wrong." Said Hiccup

"So he knows?"

"He didn't say that." Said Cynder

"Look Astrid you were there on Outcast just like I was, you know what Alvin is capable of."

"So you thought you could fly all by yourself with a Dragon that has a broken wing and not say nothing." Asked Astrid

"That was our plane yes." Said Cynder

"We didn't want get any one in trouble." Said Hiccup

"We were trying to do the right thing" said Cynder

"We all know what the right thing is guys. But if we're going to ride dragon behind your fathers back, we all are going to ride dragons behind your fathers back." Said Astrid

__Time skipping__

It had taken some time but soon ever one was in on the Dragon Flight Club. But there was one thing that was made perfectly. There is no Dragon Flight Club. It took Cynder to knock some sense into the twins to make them understand what they were saying. Of course the twins asked her to do it again they like the look of the stars that she gave them.

It was later that day and they were at the Academy. "Ok Dragon Flight Club members you know why you're here. We need to be ready for any rider on any type of dragon. So I've put together some training exercises."

"Blah, blah, blah, can we go already?" ask/complained Snotlout

And when they did the first place they went was Changewing Island were they learned there hunting tick neck and how to escape from them no thanks to the twins. The next day Cynder's wing was good and she was able to fly on her own and not on the back of another dragon and that day they were learning about the Typhoomerang and its way of fly and after escaping one did they run into some real trouble start.

"Hay Hiccup!"

"Yes Tuffnut"

"When did your dad join Dragon Flight Club?"

"He didn't."

"Oh weird cause he's right there."

Everyone looked down and saw the Chief on his Dragon going over the sea. Hiccup ordered everyone into the clouds. They could have got away with it to if it wasn't for the Twins soon they all spit up and went home and not get caught by the Chief both Cynder and Toothless went to their sleeping spots and slept the rest of the night.

Time skipping

The next night they were at the Academy. The only one not there was Snotlout

"He put the screw to me I thought I was going to crack even when the light went out but I held firm because I know the first rule of Dragon Flight Club is there is no Dragon Flight Club." Said Fishlegs

"You did Great Fishlegs" Said Cynder

"So what are we going do tonight?" asked Ruffnut

"Nothing, look my dad is on to us it important to lay low tell this blows over we need to be invisible." Said Hiccup. "Hay Hiccup" Just thin Snotlout and Hookfang came in putting on a big show of it.

"Snotlout what did I tell you no dragons" said Hiccup

"What then way is Cynder doing here she's a dragon or is she?" said Tuffnut

"What's so important anyway?" asked Hiccup

"Let's just say I might of saved this enter island, Alvin and the Outcast are attacking as we speak." said Snotlout

Outcast ship

"Alvin were getting closer." Said an outcast

"Yes we are is all the dragons ready yet?" asked Alvin

"Yes sir all of them are starved just like you wanted sir."

"Here they come sir!" yelled an outcast

And they were all of them were coming just as he pained "ON MY COMAND AND NOW!" yelled Alvin but no mattered how hard they tried they could not get them it was time for plain B. "open the cargo hold." Eight Changewings came out went straight to Berk looking for a fest. Soon the riders herded the dragons to their Island. And only Cynder, Hiccup, And Stoick were left. Time for plain C "release the purple Dragon!" yelled Alvin

Spyro flow out of his Cage and flow right into Cynder. To say he was happy was under statement. They impressed other and flow to and attacked the Outcast ship they both recently gain there powers back Spyro hit them with fire and Cynder with poison. And Hiccup did the same with their dragons and soon the Outcast retreated.

"What is it?" asked Stoick as the four of them flow back to Berk.

"I don't now I just figured Alvin would have a better plain then this." Said Hiccup

"Let us be glade he didn't Hiccup I think his all bark and no bight." Said Cynder

"That's not his plain at all." Said Spyro

"What do you mean?" asked Stoick

"I'll tell you more when we land." Said Spyro

__#__

After tell Stoick about Flight Club Spyro told them Alvin's plain.

"All I know is that he placed dragon eggs under Berk with the help of this old guy named Mildew." Said Spyro

"Do you know what kind of dragon?" asked Hiccup

"No"

"I'll send some scoots to go look for them. In the meantime it's time for bed and it's good to have you in good hands." Said Stoick

"Thank you Chief and thanks for taking care of Cynder for me even if she did bite your hand Hiccup." said Spyro, Cynder blushed as they all chuckled.
